DECKHAND DROWNS WHILE IN BATHING

Member of Steamer Scoto's Crew Drowns in Ohio River Near Fernbank Dam Monday.

The first Ohio River swimming victim of the season was reported from Cincinnati Monday night.

Seized with cramps while swimming in the Ohio River at Fernbank Dam No. 37, at 7 o'clock Monday night, Luther Cox, 26 years old, deckhand on the United States steamer Scoto, was drowned despite efforts of three of his companions who tried desperately to rescue him.

Shortly after eating his evening meal on the steamer Scoto, Cox said to George English, Frank Bohman and Don Foreman, members of the ship's crew, that he was going to take a dive in the river.

While Cox was preparing to enter the water the three men took seats near the place where Cox leaped into the river. Cox swam around in the water for a few minutes and suddenly cried for help. The three men leaped into the stream and when they attempted to rescue Cox, he pulled them under the water and they would have drowned had they not released their grip on his body. For three hours the men fished with long poles in the place where Cox disappeared under the water. They found the body about fifty feet from where Cox met his death.

CITIZENS MILITARY TRAINING CAMP EXPLAINED TO PUBLIC

Chairman for Mason County Explains Purpose and Plans of Training Camps.

Supt. W. J. Caplinger, chairman for Mason county of the Citizens' Military Training Camp, Tuesday afternoon explained the project as follows:

For the benefit of those who may be interested in the Citizens' Military Training Camp that will be opened at Camp Knox, Ky., on July 21st to continue through four weeks, I am giving the following statement:

The aim of this and similar camps is to promote good citizenship and an interest in national defense. The War Department plans to bring together young men of all occupations on a basis of equality under the most favorable conditions of outdoor life.

The camps are open to all men between the ages of sixteen and thirty-five years, who are of sound character, intelligent and physically fit. No educational qualifications are prescribed, but each candidate must file a certificate of good character, signed by school master, clergyman, priest or rabbi, together with medical testimony from a qualified physician as to hearing, eyesight, heart action and a general physical condition adequately fitted for the course of training.

The government will pay all expenses of those attending this camp, including transportation, uniforms, food and medical care. Each candidate will pay his own transportation to the camp and be reimbursed upon arrival at the rate of five cents a mile.

Enrollment at this camp implies no later service obligations, although it is hoped that men who attend will be inducted thereafter to enroll with the National Guard or the Reserve.

Uniform training and instruction will include the initiation of all who attend into the elementary duties of the soldier and the ordinary routine of camp life. There will be squad, platoon and company drill, small arms firing practice; guard duty; camping and marching; individual cooking; care of equipment and actual problems in open warfare.

Each candidate will bring to camp one piece of hand luggage containing shaving and toilet articles; four suits of underwear, two pairs of pajamas, six pairs of socks, six handkerchiefs, four face towels and two bath towels. It will be well also to bring athletic uniforms and equipment, musical instruments and bathing suits, in so far as each has those articles. Military clothing and equipment will be furnished and laundry service provided free.

Camp Knox is located about thirty-five miles from Louisville; it contains a total of 32,000 acres of wooded, mountainous, rolling plains and is the second largest military reservation in the world. Its area is such as to permit all class of light and heavy field artillery to be employed and a battle of modern proportions may be held within its boundaries.

Camp Knox is a place to which young men can go with the confident and justified expectations of finding the best idea of the true American community. Chaplains and Messengers of the Regular Army will be especially detailed for the training camps. Voluntary religious exercises will be held on appropriate occasions for men of all faiths. There will be ample opportunity for the reception of home visitors. In every possible way there will be cultivated a high sense of patriotic devotion and fidelity to the basic virtues of the American citizen.

Additional information and necessary enrollment blanks may be secured from the Military Training Camps Association, 200 Mallers Building, Chicago, which is acting as the civilian agency of the War Department for the training camps or by addressing the Commanding General, Fifth Corps Area Headquarters, Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Indiana; or Lt. Col. Geo. D. Freeman, Jr., P. M. S. & T. University of Ky., Lexington, Ky.; or W. J. Caplinger, Maysville, Ky.

The first educational drive in the interest of the proposed burley tobacco co-operative marketing association, which is in process of formation in Kentucky will begin Wednesday when Aaron Sapiro, marketing expert, will speak at a series of conferences at points throughout the Bluegrass.

This announcement was made Monday at the conclusion of a meeting of the preliminary committee on organization at the Pendergill Club, at Louisville. The meeting was attended by Judge Robert W. ORGANIZER HELD WITHOUT BAIL FOR GUN TOTING

First Arrest Under Martial Law in West Virginia Is For Carrying Revolver.

Williamson, W. Va., May 24. — A D. Lavender, an organizer for the United Mine Workers of America, was arrested by a state trooper here late Monday and held without bail on a charge of carrying a pistol.

Captain J. R. Brockus of the state police, who is directing the forces in charge of the situation in the trouble area up on the West Virginia-Kentucky border, summoned Lavender to appear at his office and answer to the charge of "pistol toting." The organizer, the captain said, refused to appear, and Private Carl A. Dodge, a trooper, was ordered to bring him in. The trooper arrested Lavender, and in addition to the pistol-carrying charge, complaints that he used disrespectful language to an officer and spoke slightly of Governor Morgan's proclamation of martial law for Mingo county were lodged against him.

David Robb, international financial agent of the United Mine Workers, when informed of the arrest, declared that he had warned his men not to carry weapons. "I am willing to see that the provisions of the martial law are carried out," he said, adding "I want to see it done, and am sorry that this has occurred."

Thomas West, a Williamson attorney representing the United Mine Workers in this district, said that Lavender may have violated the provisions of the martial law proclamation, but that he was looking up the statutes to ascertain if the prisoner could be released.

And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

PLAYING TRUE TO FORM.

Troubles in Europe tread on each other's heels. No sooner does the ebullition cease in one part than it breaks out in another. Poland, in particular, seems capable of an infinite variety of mischief. She has become the trouble-maker of the continent.

Disregarding the boundaries established by the Peace Conference, and the admonitions of the Supreme Council, she made an unprovoked attack upon Russia, which provoked an invasion of her own territory.

Under a general whom she scolded, but secretly, and then openly, supported, she invaded Lithuania and seized the city of Vilna, capital of the central district.

Now, not even waiting for the Supreme Council to announce its decision with respect to the Upper Silesia plebiscite, she has thrown irregular forces into the zone which she claims, armed with machine guns, artillery and airplanes, driving the Germans out and taking forcible possession of cities, factories and mines.

The Poles have been always truculent and violent. They have not changed in a thousand years. Today they indulge in the grandiose dream of recovering their old dominions and of restoring their ancient glory. Heavily in debt, their peasantry wretchedly poor, their lands neglected, their industries prostrate, their children starving, the country rotten with epidemic disease, they maintain an army of six hundred thousand men, and backed by France under the provisions of a secret military alliance, they are on the warpath once more.

The Allies sowed dragon's teeth in Eastern Europe when they encouraged the Poles to aspire to create for themselves a "place in the sun."

Reports from Silesia are fragmentary and indefinite, but if this is not a case for the League of Nations when will they find a case?

Unless something is done to check the Poles chaos will ensue.

THE FADED PINKS.

Reassuring word comes from Chicago. The annual convention of the International Workers of the World passed off without danger of spontaneous combustion. The Illinois city felt no shock from violent language. None of the forty-five delegates carried TNT bombs on their hips. Seditious literature was conspicuous by its absence. The remarkable thing about this session of the radicals was its conservatism.

There's a reason for this reason. Perhaps more than one. At bottom, probably, is the fact that the organization has been left without "intelligent leadership." Most of the "intellectuals," to whom the common or garden variety of I. W. W. looked for seditious inspiration, are in prison. The remainder are A. W. O. L. Only the rank and file are left. And the rank and file, even in Russia, would always be more reasonable except for the agitators.

Advocates of the overthrow of government were not among those present at the Chicago convention this week. The I. W. W. delegates there assembled were confronted with a problem, which if not of such serious proportions, is, to them, considerably more acute. Condensed into one sentence this is their present problem:

"How in the world are we going to scrape up the $75,000 to reimburse the bondsmen of our nine convicted brethren who failed to answer the roll call at Leavenworth?"

These misadventures of the radicals have apparently had a sobering effect upon them. Once violently red, they are only a faded and sickly pink now.

DEBTS AND DEFICITS.

Editors everywhere are applauding the President for his firm stand against future deficiencies. If his cabinet heads faithfully follow his wishes it will mean a saving to the taxpayers of hundreds of millions of dollars a year. On April 30, 1921, the public debt of the United States was $23,995,564,776, approximately what it has been for about a year. What would the figures have looked like had the Republican Congress of last winter consented to grant the estimates of the Democratic administration, which were about a billion and a half over the sums actually appropriated. In the preceding year the estimates were a billion over the appropriations.

UNUSED TO DEFICITS.

The Harding cabinet is made up of successful business men. They did not attain success by incurring deficits in their private business, so it is safe to say they will easily fall in line with the Harding suggestion that they avoid deficits in the government departments under their charge.

BIG INCREASE IN CANADIANS MAY BE SHOWN

Census of Canadians Will Begin at Midnight on May 31.—Thousands Will Be Numbered.

Ottawa, Ont. — May 31, at midnight will be the zero hour for the census in Canada which will be taken commencing June 1. It is expected that all the statistics will have been secured in three weeks' time.

Every person alive on May 31, at the hour named, will be included in the population of the Dominion.

All over the country the chief enumerators are instructing their assistants in the work of securing the information to be sought, and special instructions are being given to make allowance for the ladies who this time will be asked many embarrassing questions.

The enumerator will be called upon to set forth in his report the age of the lady of the house, and, in fact, all the ladies and children, and the men. The grownups will have to tell their ages and the women are expected to put up a battle in this regard. If any of them cheat, they are liable to be tripped up, because the figures of ten years ago will be available, and if such women lived here a decade since they will find that the enumerator will in cold blood set forth their real age, based on the figures given formerly.

Adults will state whether married, single or divorced, and, if married, how often. The number of children in the family, with their ages and earning capacity; religious denomination, etc. A question that is expected to cause trouble amongst wage earners will be the amount of earnings. It is promised that the figures will be kept secret, but in view of the rather stiff government tax on practically all incomes but few people will care to trust the enumerators on this point.

The first enumeration in Canada was taken in 1871, and it has been continued every ten years since. The population increase shown in 1911 was a distinct disappointment, but it is hoped that the showing this year will be satisfactory. Some very enthusiastic optimists look for a population of about 10,000,000, which would be an increase of more than 2,500,000 since 1911, but the more conservative observers will be content with about 8,500,000.

Statistics given recently in the Canadian Parliament show that while many people came to this country from the United States in 1920 Canada actually lost about 50,000 people to the American republic. Hard times, however, always bring the Canadians home, and it is said that the present time is most opportune for the taking of the census, as the country is filled with the old folks as a result of having been laid off by United States factories.

WOULDN'T LIKE TO DRINK SOME CAKEN

New York. — In the contest to discover the most ingenious means of deflecting attention of prohibition enforcement agents, customs officers here believe this contrivance deserves at least honorable mention:

In their search of the stemship Glendola, the inspectors obeyed a "hunch" and rummaged through the ship's cold storage plant. Frosting on the large cakes of ice, rendering them quite opaque, whetted their suspicions, and they scraped off the coating. An improvised "X-ray" made by attaching reflectors to electric light bulbs, revealed bottle-shaped black spots within the translucent blocks. More than 200 bottles of whisky had been thus frozen into this ghastly hiding places, they said.

ROOSTER WEEK TO BE OBSERVED NEXT WEEK

Appeal is Made To Poultry Breeders To Kill Off All Worthless Males During Next Week in Ky.

Lexington, Ky. — Roosters are causing Kentucky farmers an annual loss of $950,000 in the form of fertile eggs which spoil rapidly during the summer months and are therefore discriminated against on the market, according to a statement issued by the Poultry Department of the College of Agriculture in connection with "Rooster Week" which will be held May 23 to 28. Losses in eggs last year in the state were estimated to be $1,500,000. This was a total loss on all eggs spoiled or graded below "firsts" by produce houses. Roosters running in farm flocks and causing fertile eggs are responsible for the largest single part of this loss, specialists in the department stated.

Fertile eggs are unfit for food after 24 hours in warm weather according to the announcement made. An egg does not need to be placed in an incubator or under a hen in order to be spoiled as summer weather will cause quick development.

In connection with the campaign to kill, sell or confine all roosters during the summer months farmers will be shown the need for killing all old roosters early in May and young roosters just as soon as they reach the frying stage. To further insure the production of infertile eggs, farmers will also be shown the importance of confining all cockerels that are to be kept over for breeding purposes next fall.

New York Letter

by
Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — We are all going to be rolling in wealth shortly. That is if we can scrape together the fare to Monte Carlo — and have no compunctions against going there for the aged reason for going to Monte Carlo. For A. Baschi has landed in New York to begin a tour of instruction on how to break the bank. He modestly and convincingly admits that he has perfected a system which renders roulette wheels and other gambling devices mere playthings. It is said — or he himself said — that he has broken the bank at Monte Carlo so many times that he has been barred from there by the Prince of Monaco. Now, I know that one ought not to judge anyone by the superficial matter of money-to-spend. But I can't help feeling that just to me personally, Mr. Baschi would have been still more convincing in his role as one who could teach us all how to bring back that gambling wealth if he hadn't himself come over on the steamer second class.

One man on Manhattan Island refuses to get interested in the straw hat windows no matter how fair the day may be. That's Harry Kemp, the poet. He acorns hats, oh! most acornfully. He walks bareheaded past the haberdasheries, defiance in every step. "Certainly, I'd rather spend my money for books," he replied when someone questioned him. "But it isn't economy of money I am particularly interested in. It's economy of hair! Hats make you baldheaded." And Harry Kemp is enough of a poet to realize the value of his saved hairs.

Dorothy Ward, London musical comedy player appearing in "Phoebe of Quality Street," has evidently decided to take an interest in this country to several years to come. Far ready she has begun scouting for a Long Island country place worth much fine gold, and members of the Great Neck theatrical colony are answering telephone to deny that they are intending to sell theirs.

The New York postoffice hadles 15,000,000 pieces of mail daily and 35,000 of the pieces in any 24 hours are misdirected!

Mirrors have a good many uses in life, it seems, especially if they stand in public places. Even those in the penny slot machine also to unexpected utilitarianism at times. One weighing machine in the Fourteenth street station of the East Side subway evidently had been named as a meeting place the other day. For scrawled in letters of white, apparently made with soap, was the message: "Jane, I was here at 5:45. Where were you? Tom." Beneath it was a reply written in red — with a lipstick: "I was here, too. Perhaps you come on standard time and I on daylight. Jane."

Justine Johnstone now avers that she will become a picture producer as well as a player for no less purpose than "to defend her sex against the false impressions which are being aroused by present-day motion pictures." Her first production will be called "Fifth Avenue," and will set forth "the development of women in social and civic life during the last quarter of a century, with the growth of New York's famous street as a symbol."

The gayest looking place in this city now is that part of the far East side, way over by the river, where tenements have given way to really fashionable houses. For some reason, maybe the breaking away from the stately neighborhood where they had lived so long, maybe the sight of the river and some green along its shore — anyway, for some reason, the new tenants have turned joyfully to light, bright colors for the painting of their houses. You find a friend's house, not by the number on its door but because she has told you that it's the second one from the corner that has a Nile green door, or one of Chinese blue with a big brass knocker. It is refreshing after the cliffs of gray stone apartment houses and the equally cold looking separate homes on and near the avenue.

LUCY JEANNE PRICE
HOPES FOR WIRELESS
SPEECH ACROSS OCEAN.

London. — Signor Marconi, inventor of wireless, plus his faith to Transatlantic telephonic communication by wireless instead of by cable, despite the recent successful experiments in America connecting Cuba with the mainland in a telephone circuit extending 5,000 miles.

"I still think," he said, "that the only satisfactory method of telephoning across the Atlantic is by wireless. At present we can only do a short distance by cable telephone—from London to Paris is as far as we can do now. In attempts to communicate with Spain we have failed. Up to 100 or 200 miles of cable it works. With 1,000 miles or more of cable it won't work."

"Wireless telephony, of course, has not yet been developed to the same extent as the wire telephone, but it is being rapidly improved. We have not done anything like 5,000 miles thus far. We have spoken successfully from London to Rome, and we have got words through to America, but not in a commercial or practical way. At present there are certain disturbances of the waves in space, the cause of which has not yet been discovered."

Dixon, Ky. — Fred Cravens, 27, died from cuts received when a team of mules hitched to a disk harrow ran away. He was thrown in the path of the harrow which passed over him.

UNCLE TED'S BED-TIME STORIES.

Team Work Means a Winning Team—President Harding a Real Captain.

"It've got it right here," said Jack as he opened one of his school books. "If you will be still long enough I'll read it to you."

The matter being discussed by Ruth and Jack had to do with the oath taken by the President when inaugurated. Ruth was trying to remember it but had failed and Jack was anxious to read it to her because he had been saying that President Harding was more than living up to it.

"Now listen," began Jack, "I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

"That's the oath, Ruth, and, believe me, President Harding is doing it, too. Another thing I found in the Constitution, is where it says that the President may require opinions from the cabinet officers upon any subject in their departments."

"Had you noticed, Jack," interrupted Uncle Ted, "that President Harding is doing that, too, and many other things mentioned and required by the Constitution, all of which goes to show that he is working hard to do as he said when taking the oath, that he would, to the best of his ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution. Now let me tell you a short story along these same lines."

"Oh goodie!" exclaimed Ruth. "Kiddies, to begin with, haven't you ever noticed that any kind of an organization, business, club, or anything else must have what is generally known as 'team' work before very much can be accomplished. Why, Jack, you know right now that unless you, as manager of your baseball team, and the members of your team get together and talk over your troubles and differences and come to agreements that mean progress, you can't win very many games."

"You bet I know that," answered Jack. "The boys come to me with ideas to improve the team and I talk it over with them and listen to what they have to say. Sometimes they are good ideas and some times they are not, but I always listen and try to use the good ideas to help us have the best team."

"You have really told my whole story, Jack," continued Uncle Ted. "Your way of running that baseball team is President's Harding's way of running his job. His job is just like yours, only in a bigger way. He is captain of his team. The members of his cabinet and the members of the House and Senate are the leading players and the 110,000,000 people in the United States are the enthusiastic fans and many times turn out to be players. Now, how could President Harding's team succeed in its games with the other countries of the world and in handling home problems if there wasn't real genuine team work? It couldn't. That is why our government has drifted so far away from the Constitution during the last ten years. There wasn't team work between the executive and Congress, not to mention the members of the cabinet. It is really remarkable when you stop to think that in a little less than three months Mr. Harding has succeeded in making the relationship between Congress and the White House one of respect, independence, and cooperation. That, of course, means team-work. This all means good government and for that reason it is a big accomplishment."

"Just think what it must mean to the members of the House of Representatives and the Senate, too, for that matter, to be able to go right to the White House and not only see the President but be able to place their problems and suggestions before him and receive a kind reception and close attention! It is a mighty new experience for most members and they not only like it but the good it does is being reflected in every phase of our government machinery."

"Another mighty important thing to remember, Jack, is this: It is easy enough for you to listen to the members of your team when they bring you new ideas or ask that certain things be done, so long as you agree in your own mind that they are in the right. It is easy then to send them away feeling good, but how about

NERVOUS FAINTING SPELLS

Mrs. Werner Tells How They Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Camden, N. J. — "Before my baby was born I was run down and weak, had pains in my back and stomach, was very nervous and would have fainting spells. I certainly suffered awfully with these nervous fainting spells. I did not know anyone at times and used to scream. A doctor treated me for the spells but did not seem to do much good. I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills before so I began taking them again. I soon felt a change and could do my work without pain and was cured of those nervous spells. Now I have a nice fat baby girl and an easy time at birth, thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. WILLIAM WERNER, 1216 Van Hook St., Camden, N. J.

When a wife finds her energies are flagging, she is weak, nervous, suffers from backache, the "blues" she should build her system up at once by taking that standard woman's medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as did Mrs. Werner.

If there is anything about your condition you do not understand write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., in regard to your health.

when you don't agree and don't feel that what they suggest is for the best? Then it is not so easy to send them away with a smile.

"But that is what President Harding is doing. Even those men who go to him for something and come away without it leave with a smile because he has been courteous and attentive and shown them that it could not be done. The one big thing to me that Mr. Harding has accomplished in so short a time is that he has found a way to talk things-over with the leaders of the House and Senate, to get their views and give them his own, letting them know what he thinks best, and at the same time not becoming a dictator. Any man can sit up and say, 'do that or do this,' and then go on with something else. But to get things done by friendly cooperation is to be a real leader, and a real leader makes for team work—and team work means a winning team."

"That is why the United States is going to win. We have needed team work hardly in the last few years, and a leader instead of a dictator, for the rules of this team will not allow a dictator, the rules being what, Ruth?"

"The Constitution," answered Ruth.

SECRETARY WALLACE MAY VISIT CATTLE SHOW

United States Secretary of Agriculture Invited to Be in Louisville September 15th and 16th.

Presence of Henry C. Wallace, United States Secretary of Agriculture, at the Bourbon Stock Yards Fat and Feeding Cattle Show and Sale, September 15th and 16th is expected by members of the Louisville Live Stock Exchange, W. S. Bell, president of the exchange announced recently. A letter received by Mr. Bell indicated Mr. Wallace's intention of coming.

The exchange, in the name of the livestock interests of the state invited Mr. Wallace a week ago to come for the occasion of the show and sale. The attention of Mr. Wallace was called to the movement for better bred and greater meat animal production being conducted by the Kentucky Purebred Livestock Association and the Louisville Live Stock Exchange and in which the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture are deeply concerned.

It was first intended to ask Mr. Wallace to attend the Farmers Better Sire Sale of 300 pure bred registered bulls to be held at the Bourbon Stock Yards June 2nd, but was felt that the time was too short and there was a possibility of Mr. Wallace already being otherwise engaged for that date.

The presence of Mr. Wallace at the fat and feeding cattle show and sale in September will give him double opportunity of meeting the farmers of Kentucky and Tennessee of whom thousands will be present to attend the show and the Kentucky State Fair which will be held the same week.

Mr. Wallace will be asked to address the farmers at the Bourbon Stock Yards at the show the morning of September 15th so as not to interfere with the State Fair attendance. All arrangements for the cattle show and sale have been made with the idea of helping the State Fair attendance and the time for the cattle show and sale have been set for the mornings of the dates given for that reason.

"Despite the criticism of the Exchange by certain members of the State Fair Commission for holding the cattle show and sale the week of the State Fair, the Exchange planned to bring Mr. Wallace here, if he could conveniently arrange to come, with the hope of aiding both the fair and the exchange," declared Mr. Bell. "There can be no doubt that the presence here of Mr. Wallace at the time when the Fair is in progress and when the cattle show and sale has brought in many thousands who otherwise would not have come, will be a great help to the agricultural movement generally."

Mr. Wallace stands high in the regard of every farmer familiar with his record. His coming should be a memorable event, as he will bring with him the great authority of his position and the message of support to the agricultural industry of the state from his highly efficient department, which is so badly needed at this time.

In making the request that Mr. Wallace come at this time and for this event the Exchange had in mind not only the encouragement of better grade livestock production in the state but the encouragement of farming generally. Mr. Wallace will be able to explain to the farmers how thoroughly and practically the United States Department of Agriculture is standing behind them and how willing it is to help solve their problems.

Mr. Wallace's invitation came not only from the Exchange but from every interest in the state having the welfare of the farmer at heart.

Arrangements for the entertainment of visiting farmers on the night of the cattle show, September 15, following the events at the stock yards are being perfected by the Exchange. It is intended to take the farmers to the State Fair that evening and entertain them in a body. Sections of the Livestock Pavilion will be reserved for the occasion if possible.

SENIORITAS MUST HUNT NEW JOBS.

Mexico City. — Pretty-faced senioritas who have been employed in government offices, principally because of the pleasant smile they gave department heads, are to be ousted from their present positions and are to take their places, according to a recent official announcement. After President Obregon's recent order that every cabinet officer must investigate the worthiness of his employees, it was discovered that hundreds of girls were drawing federal pay with duties that called for only occasional work. All such are to be discharged, provision being made, however, that they shall be retained if they are assisting in the support of their parents or other near relatives.

NEW MARITAL CODE TO FOLLOW SUFFRAGE.

Boston. — As a result of woman's demand for equality with man, the formulation of a new marriage code is imminent. Dr. Abraham Myerson, assistant professor of nervous diseases at Tufts Medical College, declared. The professor stated that he could not determine whether the code would be based on the ultimatum, "man must be as good as I" or the defi, "I will be as bad as man is."

RESOLUTIONS

Maysville Commandery Knights Templar Adopt Resolutions on Death of Colonel E. A. Robinson.

At the regular meeting of Maysville Commandery No. 10 Knights Templar held last night the following report of a special resolution committee was adopted:

"To the Eminent Commander, and Knights of Maysville Commandery No. 10 K. T.: Your committee appointed to present resolutions of respect to the memory of R. E. Sir Eugene Algernon Robinson, offer the following report: 'Weep not that his toils are over, weep not that his race is run; God grant we may rest as calmly when our work like his is done. Till then we would yield with gladness our treasures to him to keep, And rejoice in the sweet assurance, He giveth His loved ones to sleep.'"

Sir Robinson was born at Sharpburg, Kentucky, February 2, 1849. In his early manhood he moved to Maysville. He was initiated, passed and raised in Mason Lodge, No. 342, Maysville, receiving his Master Degree October 25, 1871. He was exalted a Royal Arch Mason in Maysville Chapter No. 9, March 10, 1873. Dubbed and created a Knight Templar in Maysville Commandery No. 10, May 27, 1873.

Was elected Eminent Commander of Maysville Commandery No. 10 in May, 1886, and served one year. Elected Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Kentucky, May 20th, 1897, and served one year.

In the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite he was made a Perfect Elu, a Knight Rose Croix, a Knight Kadosh and received the 32 degree December 22, 1895, William Ryan, 33 degree Hon. of Louisville, conferring the work for the Louisville Bodies of the Rite. On October 22, 1895, he was elected a Knight Commander of the Court of Honor and Corrocted an Inspector General Honorary, 33 degree, by Frank H. Johnson, 33 degree Hon., November 12, 1895, at Louisville, Kentucky.

In the Templar branch of Masonry, Sir Robinson was peculiarly and specially interested in Maysville Commandery. For many years he was, perhaps, the most active member of Maysville Commandery and did as much, if not more than any other of its members, to help it reach its present high standard. He took an active interest in every movement for the good of the Commandery, and he willingly and freely gave of his time and money to aid in every way toward the advancement of Templar Masonry.

Sir Robinson served as Treasurer of our Commandery for many years. One of his principal interests was to put our finances on a sound basis; his accounts were always most accurately kept, and when he laid down the duties of his office there was nothing left undone.

Sir Robinson was loved by every member of the Commandery, but particularly by the older members. He was a man of sound views and strong friendships; of simple habits and unostentatious in his benevolences. There is many a man in this community, both inside and outside of our order, who owes his start in life to the advice and material help of Eugene Robinson. He was always ready to help those who were ready to help themselves and, in extending aid, he always put it in such form that the recipient would be certain to profit. Many instances of his acts of charity and kindness have come to light since his death, and the committee feels satisfied in saying that no appeal for aid was ever made to Sir Robinson which, if it had merit, was refused. He lived his life among us four-square; was a man among men; a friend among friends, and a loyal and courteous Knight Templar among his brothers. Maysville will miss him, Maysville Commandery will miss him but most of all, he will be missed by those who knew him best. His life is epitomized in the following sentiment: "Do something for somebody somewhere—"

While jogging along life's road; Help someone to carry his burden And lighter will grow your load; Do something for somebody striving— To help where the way seems long And the homeless hearts that languish Cheer up with a little song. Do something for somebody always. Whatever may be your creed— There's nothing on earth can help you So much as a kindly deed." Courteously and fraternally submitted: S. P. BROWNING, A. C. SULSER, Committee.

The body of William R. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rogers, of Cincinnati, formerly of this city, will be returned to America next week from France where he was killed during the war. The body will be brought to Maysville for burial.

WOMEN'S WOES

Maysville Women Are Finding Relief At Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, hearing-down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Keeping the kidneys well has spared thousands of women much misery. Read of a remedy for kidney ills that is endorsed by people you know. Mrs. E. L. Cullen, 322 West Second street, Maysville, says: "Three years ago I had an attack of kidney trouble and my back ached continually. I had no ambition to do my housework and everything seemed a drag to me while going about it. I had blinding, dizzy spells and my head ached all the time. My kidneys were not acting regularly and in other ways showed signs of disorder. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I sent to Wood & Son's drug store and got a box. After using them I got over the trouble entirely and have never since been bothered. I willingly recommend this remedy."

Price 60c., at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Cullen had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

"DOWN BY THE O-HIO"

Billy Murray-Victor Records

The singers take the B. & O.; so to speak, down to the banks of the O-hio—to the country where they used to breed men who declared they were 'half hoes and half alligator.'

"MARIMBA"

Billy Murray

From "Greenwich Village Follies." A tale of a Chilean dancer who smoked cigarettes, took the singer's money, but refused to let him kiss her. Victor Double-faced Record 18723

MEDLEY OF IRISH JIGS

John Kimmel

A record that will set the sulkiest foot going and take the dignity out of the "stiffest" evening company.

MEDLEY OF IRISH REELS

Patrick J. Touhey

"Pat" Touhey's nimble fingers and fine sense of rhythm put plenty of weird harmony into these remarkable bagpipe reels—all of them classics. Victor Double-faced Record 18727

We know you will enjoy these New Victor Records. Stop in and let us play them for you.
